Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Last Sunday, God called us to raise our prophetic voice to our own people. Such prophetic vocation, as we discovered from the readings at Mass, will not be easy. The Lord however encourages us to be faithful and not necessarily successful, and as we preach and proclaim and prophesy to family, friends and to the Church, people should know whether they change or not that by God a prophet has been among them.

Today instead we hear that after having called the twelve, Jesus instructs and sends them two by two. Once again 'we are sent two by two', which means as a community, to announce the Good News. This time, not just as prophets but, as disciples of the Lord. Jesus invites each one of us to perform 'an examination of conscience', recalling that we must be able to hear the people's "cry for help" and to support them on their journey to get closer to the Lord. That's why it is so vital that a disciple's mission is an itinerant one, not sedentary; that is: the mission should constantly stimulate the going, new encounters, detachment from results, interior and exterior freedom. Disciples have to travel light, be free, focus more on the importance of the proclamation than on the consolidation of results. Disciples must utterly rely and trust in God. After all, as we know, the disciple's wage is bearing a "likeness to Jesus": there is no reward in cash or in power for one who truly follows the Lord, because the path is only that of service and giving freely. Hence, let us review and renew our faith, because if we don't listen to the Lord, if we don't accept correction and we don't trust him, our heart has not yet repented. In fact, if we seek a "good deal" in worldly terms of "wealth, vanity and pride", our "head swells" and we bear "counter-testimony" in the Church.

Take courage, if your deepest desire is to be a disciple of Christ, then be completely available, without thinking of gain or survival; seek out sick people, that is: those sick for personal or social reasons, from the oppression of the law or of human evil and free them, pour the oil of consolation on them, heal their wounds and interior hurts. Your reward will be great in Heaven. May God bless you all.
