Dear Brothers and Sisters,

This weekend here in England we celebrate the Solemnity of St Peter and St Paul, and so we will hear about them during Mass. In this newsletter however I'd like to continue reflecting on the theme: trusting in the Lord, presented in the Ordinary Time Sunday's Gospel of Mark.

Mark invites us to meditate on two other of Jesus' miracles. The first miracle is worked for a woman considered impure because she suffered from a haemorrhage for 12 years. The second one is worked for a 12 years old girl who has just died. According to religious customs in ancient Israel any person who touched blood or a dead body was considered impure. Theologically speaking both stories manifest to us the effect and consequence of sin: loosing blood which means loosing life and the sting of sin that is death.

We may or we may not, be bleeding or be dead physically, but perhaps emotionally or psychologically some of us may be grievously wounded or even dead. Is there anyone among us then who does not need the forgiveness and healing love of God to touch them? Most of us know, only too well, that if our lives were put under the moral magnifying glass; if our hearts and minds could be X-rayed for sin and hypocrisy, then our only hope would be the mercy and compassion of God, just as it was shown to the two women. Christ desires to be touched by us so that He can raise us up. He does not care what opinion people may have of him, but He cares about you and me.

Therefore, whatever the sins, imperfections, blemishes and deviations we all show - or we desperately try to hide or disguise - they need not control us, scandalize us and depress us, or drag us down to self-hatred or utter despair. NO! Because God's forgiveness is greater than any sin or failing of ours, and His compassion can bring us back from sickness to health, from death to life. God's mercy can loosen the grip of our vices and sins, our addictions and slaveries. His forgiveness is absolute. His love is unconditional. This is the Good News for all of us. That is why we need never hide the worst truths about our lives; never be afraid to bring out into the light, all our murky secrets and all the skeletons in our cupboards. The truth and nothing else but the whole truth! This is the way to healing. And so once again we are called to TRUST and have FAITH in the Lord. May God bless you and heal you.

Fr Fortunato
